The Job Search Journal: 16 weeks-day by day has been designed to help you stay on track while looking for a job. Remember-a job is only part of your life! Why Job Search Journal? MOTIVATION AND SYSTEMATIC APPROACH. JSJ has been designed to help unemployed people to stay focused while looking for a job. "The hardest work in the world is being out of work" (Witney M. Young). Therefore, we need to have a structured day-by-day plan in place. JSJ comprises a 16-week programme with unique (but not obligatory) daily tasks to be completed. This was designed to ensure that individuals stay focused and are not overwhelmed by the workload generated by searching for employment. STAYING HEALTHY. In order to find a job we need to stay healthy. JSJ monitors: emotional, physical and social progress during the 16-week plan. CREATING

YOUR JOURNEY. Nowadays, finding a job is a very challenging process, especially because we are constantly being rejected by potential employers. JSJ allows you to create your own journey with a new, positive perspective on downtime. Share your journey: paulina@jobsearchjournal.com

A job-search manual that gives career seekers a systematic, tech-savvy formula to efficiently and effectively target potential employers and secure the essential first interview. The 2-Hour Job Search shows job-seekers how to work smarter (and faster) to secure first interviews. Through a prescriptive approach, Dalton explains how to wade through the Internet 's sea of information and create a job-search system that relies on mainstream technology such as Excel, Google, LinkedIn, and alumni databases to create a list of target employers, contact them, and then secure an interview—with only two hours of effort. Avoiding vague tips like “leverage your contacts,” Dalton tells job-hunters exactly what to do and how to do it. This empowering book focuses on the critical middle phase of the job search and helps readers bring organization to what is all too often an ineffectual and frustrating process.

“ A timely and smart discussion of how different cities and regions have made a changing economy work for them – and how policymakers can learn from that to lift the circumstances of working Americans everywhere. ” —Barack Obama We ' re used to thinking of the United States in opposing terms: red versus blue, haves versus have-nots. But today there are three Americas. At one extreme are the brain hubs—cities like

San Francisco, Boston, and Durham—with workers who are among the most productive, creative, and best paid on the planet. At the other extreme are former manufacturing capitals, which are rapidly losing jobs and residents. The rest of America could go either way. For the past thirty years, the three Americas have been growing apart at an accelerating rate. This divergence is one the most important developments in the history of the United States and is reshaping the very fabric of our society, affecting all aspects of our lives, from health and education to family stability and political engagement. But the winners and losers aren't necessarily who you'd expect. Enrico Moretti's groundbreaking research shows that you don't have to be a scientist or an engineer to thrive in one of the brain hubs. Carpenters, taxi-drivers, teachers, nurses, and other local service jobs are created at a ratio of five-to-one in the brain hubs, raising salaries and standard of living for all. Dealing with this split—supporting growth in the hubs while arresting the decline elsewhere—is the challenge of the century, and The New Geography of Jobs lights the way.

The Alpha Book will explain the traits of an alpha, including charisma, the process of making strong and rightful decisions, how to best communicate with others at multiple levels, and how to turn your daily actions into fruitful prospects. Each of these traits is going to be explained in separate chapters, followed by examples of how to develop them in a creative way and apply them in your day-to-day activities.
